Small World Coffee Hour Presents

Festivals of India

Friday, March 28, 2014 at Yudof Hall, 4:00 PM to 6:00 PM

Co-Sponsored: Culture Corps

Cost: Free

We look forward to seeing you at Small World Coffee Hour presents Festivals of India. Would you like to feast at a festive festival? How about a little Indian dancing to make the fest, festive? What about some coffee to put some energy into your festive dancing festival? There are hundreds of different cultures in India and festivals are a fun expression of these different cultures. Come and learn about the different festivals of India and eat the famous finger festival food, Samosas. (Finger food is food you can eat with your hands.)

About this Group: We host a semi-monthly coffee hour where international students and American students get an opportunity to learn about various cultures and interact in a relaxing environment . We serve free coffee and delicious food from around the world. Our activities provide a venue for students from all over the world at the university to interact with each other and also an opportunity to be exposed to diverse cultures.

7:30 PM at the Arena Theater on West Bank, Rarig Center

- Sponsored by: Theatre Arts & Dance

All tickets $6.00

Two households, both alike in dignity,
In fair Verona, where we lay our scene,
From ancient grudge break to new mutiny,
Where civil blood makes civil hands unclean.
